County's NHS trust still needs to improve

DORSET'S NHS trust has been found to still require improvement after being inspected for a second time in less than 12 months.

The largest provider of healthcare in Dorset was graded as 'requires improvement' in a report by the Care Quality Commission (CQC) in October last year.

Dorset Healthcare University NHS Foundation Trust received the same rating in a report published this month, however, inspectors found that improvements had been made to minor injuries units and community mental health services for children and young people, which were rated 'good'.

The report stated: "We found the trust had made improvements to the services where we had identified concerns during our comprehensive inspection in June 2015. However, the overall rating for the trust remains 'requires improvement' as some of the work in services had not yet been completed.

"Improvements were particularly evident in the minor injuries units and child and adolescent mental health services. Both of these had received a rating of 'inadequate' for safe in our June inspection. Following this inspection, we have changed the ratings to 'good' overall for these services."

But inspectors said that more work was needed to address issues in community mental health care for adults and older people, but concluded that the trust had made considerable progress over the past year.

The report noted: "Improvements were also found in the older people's mental health wards and the long stay rehabilitation wards which led to their ratings also being changed to 'good'.

"However, community mental health services for adults of working age, older people and the crisis teams had not made such progress. Although some progress had been made, many of the issues that we had found previously were still present. The ratings for these services remained the same as requires improvement.

"The trust had made considerable progress since our last inspection, however, the lack of progress in community mental health services meant that although four services had their ratings changed to 'good', the overall trust rating of 'requires improvement' remains the same. We will continue to monitor the trusts actions to address those concerns."

Despite the rating remaining the same, Fiona Haughey, director of nursing and quality, said the report showed the trust was heading in the right direction.

She said: "This report is very encouraging. It demonstrates that we have tackled the issues identified by the CQC last year, and made substantial improvements which are benefiting patients across Dorset. We know there is more which needs to be done, and work is already well under way to address those areas which are not progressing as fast as they could. Our staff are focused on continually improving the quality of services to our patients, and we are delighted the CQC report shows we are on an upward curve."

JULIAN Dawson is a singer/songwriter living in Crewkerne, where he has lived since 1994. He is a father of three and also has one grandchild.

He boasts a career of more than 40 years as a musician and songwriter, fronting his own band as well as playing solo, recording 23 albums of his own – seven on major labels – in Cologne, Cambridge, Nashville, Austin, New York and Woodstock. Names such as Richard Thompson, Duane Eddy, Lucinda Williams and The Roches are to be found on his sleeve notes. Julian has had top 40 successes in Germany and has also guested with many famous colleagues, such as Del Amitri, Benny Hill, Gerry Rafferty, Iain Matthews and Little Feat.

Julian can play the guitar, banjo, piano, virtuoso harmonica and sings and he is still touring regularly across the UK, Europe and North America.

As well as a vast talent in music, he is also a successful author of 'And on Piano... Nicky Hopkins: The Extraordinary Life of Rock's Greatest Session man' and producer.

Julian is now also a tutor with Love Learning – which runs a mix of courses, including languages and cookery - leading workshops on song writing, recording and live performance.

● COULD you tell us a bit more about your 40 years as a musician? What was a highlight for you during this time?

My career as a musician started with a few years scuffling around with my band, four guys in a van against the world. Finally getting an album out was an early highlight - in the meantime I've made 23.

Seeing my name on the Polydor label a bit later was a special moment. I have always loved playing in the USA and remember Newport Folk Festival as a highlight, but I've enjoyed every gig whether solo or with band.

● TELL us a bit about what you do with Love Learning?

When I came across Love Learning I thought that songwriting might be a good fit alongside the other writing courses.

I've led several songwriting courses in various countries and it is great to be able to pass on all I've learned - and I've been lucky to learn from the masters!

To watch people find their own voice and to come away with a good song is an amazing feeling.

● WHAT encouraged you to move to the West Country?

My return to the West Country was inspired by the time I spent in Exeter as a student at the Art College. It was my favourite part of the country then and still is.

● WHAT are you hoping your students will gain and take from the Love Learning course?

I hope that the people who take part will go away with the same excitement I feel myself when I write a new song on an otherwise blank sheet of paper...a magical process.

● WHAT do you like to do in your spare time?

I like walking, reading and listening to music – particularly vinyl records.

WOULD YOU LIKE TO TAKE PART IN THE 60 SECOND INTERVIEW?

Hayward & Co unveil new development plans for trading estate

NEW plans for the 'regeneration' of Bridport's South West Quadrant – including St Michael's Trading Estate – have been unveiled to town councillors.

Owner of the site Clive Hayward and colleague Martin Ridley presented their current plans to members of the town council's planning committee before meetings and presentations to Enterprise St Michael's, the Neighbourhood Plan steering group, Bridport Business Chamber and public consultation.

The outline plans include a mixed use for the site, 51 houses and 44 flats, with flats above commercial spaces which would be for light industrial estate.

Mr Ridley said: "It is not just about development, it is also about regeneration and what that involves can be a bit more complex than just development."

The owners received outline planning permission for the site in 2012 but following the Lilliput Building having a new listing from English Heritage, an amended application has been compiled.

The plans at this stage are draft but an application will soon be submitted to West Dorset District Council.

Mr Ridley added: "It will be a hybrid because it will have outline for the majority of it, but it will

by Lottie Welch

lottie@viewnews.co.uk

have detail level of drawings for the listed building. In the process of doing that we have been thinking quite hard about this issue with how the development links in to conservation and how we can achieve the right balance and it is quite a difficult thing to do.

"To do the development but also retain the things that need to be retained, reinforcing the character, grain and pattern of the South West Quadrant, which I think we are achieving.

"The challenge for us is to make the most out of that space, it is constraining, there is no room for manoeuvre and the challenge is how the site will work given those constraints."

Councillors asked questions regarding access to the site, parking and affordable housing, which they would ultimately like to see at 35 per cent.

Andrew Martin, West Dorset District Council planning officer, said:

Guy Crabb support for cancer appeal

GUY Crabb Plumbing and Heating will donate 10 per cent of all boiler servicing revenue for the entire month of October to support fundraising for the new West Dorset Cancer Centre at Dorset County Hospital in Dorchester.

The appeal is raising £1.75 million to create a world class cancer facility for the people of Dorset, which will transform services for patients.

For the first time radiotherapy treatment will be available in Dorchester and patients will no longer have to travel to Poole for their treatment.

In addition, chemotherapy facilities will be improved and counselling and support facilities will be provided for all cancer patients.

Mr Crabb said: "It is such an important local cause to support we felt compelled to do something to contribute to the fundraising.

"Sadly we all know people affected by cancer and so many of them are travelling to Poole and back day after day.

"To have a local resource they can go to for treatment and support would go a long way to help them deal with an already difficult situation."

Andrew House, head of Fundraising, said: "We are thrilled to have Guy Crabb Plumbing and Heating from Bridport joining us in our fundraising for the Cancer Appeal.

"So please don't delay and get your boiler serviced in October, your support of this initiative will raise much needed funds for the Dorset County Hospital Charity Cancer Appeal."

To show your support and book a boiler service please call the office on 01308 420264 or email office@guycrabb.co.uk we still feel the benefit to the site, the town as a whole, we might end up striking that sort of compromise."

Police appeal after car is damaged

DORSET Police are appealing for witnesses after a car was damaged in South Street, Bridport.

On the morning of Saturday, September 10th, a blue Alfa Romeo was seen with a smashed front, nearside window and the alarm sounding.

It does not appear that anything was stolen, but if anyone has any information please contact Dorset Police on 101.

Youth centre to reopen its doors on Friday

BRIDPORT Youth Centre, recently taken over from Dorset County Council by the newly formed Bridport Youth and Community Centre Trust, will open its doors again on Friday night this week for the first session under the new management.

Youth services are being managed by Active Learning Somerset (ALS), a not-for-profit organisation that delivers services for teenagers and children, which took over and runs many youth clubs in Somerset after services there closed.

Previous youth workers are being employed so regular attendees at youth club will have continuity.

Cllr Ros Kayes, chairman of the trust, said: "We are all really pleased that ALS have been able to step up to the plate and provide youth club again so quickly.

"We have huge plans for the centre but the number one priority has been keeping youth club going so the young people don't see a loss of service.

"We start on Friday and hope to start a Wednesday club as soon as possible too.

"This is all down to the town council who have paid for a session a week of youth club but I would also like to thank all the people and organisations who have been raising money for the centre.

"We have got a great management plan in place and the trustees are raring to go. Friday night will be the first night of a new start for Bridport Youth Centre."

Zena Hodgson from ALS said they were delighted to be working with Bridport Youth and Community Trust and the youth centre staff to reopen the youth club doors.

She said: "It is great to be working alongside such a dedicated youth work team and we are all really looking forward to welcoming the young people back to the youth club this Friday."

Initially the club will run on Friday nights from 7pm to 9pm.

Have your say on councils' plans

RESIDENTS are being invited to share their views on Dorset councils' plans being reduced from nine to two in 2019.

Bridport Town Council is to agree its response to the consultation and is asking the public to voice their opinions on the proposal at the open public forum at the start of its next full council meeting on Tuesday, September 20th at 7pm in the town hall.

Up to 45 minutes will be set aside for public contributions.

Councillor Sarah Williams, leader of the town council, said: "The future of local government in the county, including the structure of Dorset County Council, West Dorset District Council and the other principal councils, is a major issue which could have significant implications for services that are delivered locally.

"I hope that as many people as possible will take part in the consultation exercise before the town council agrees its response.

"We would like to hear from members of the public at our next town council open public forum on September 20th."

The consultation runs until October 25th and information on all the options is available at <https://goo.gl/7JuLOC>

It has attracted more than 60 local people of all ages and abilities of which most of them have continued running.

Anyone interested to join should contact Brian Shelley or Clive Whaley, the qualified leaders for this course. Their contact details can be found at www.bridport-runners.co.uk – or just turn up at the football club car park at 5.45pm on October 12th.

Mindfulness comes to Lyme

LUCY from Grow Again is bringing the eight-week mindfulness based stress reduction (MBSR) course to Lyme Regis.

The course starts on the October 18th and runs every Tuesday evening from 6pm to 8pm in the Langmoor Room on the seaford.

The core skill of mindfulness is learning a way of paying attention on purpose and non-judgmentally to what goes on in the present moment in your body, mind and the world around you.

Mindfulness training can help you to see things differently. Mindfulness is good for everyone but especially useful for people experiencing stress, depression, anxiety, and pain or for those who would just like skills to deal with life's challenges.

The course teaches us to notice thoughts, emotions and unhelpful reactions enabling us to hold and relate to this is a more compassionate way.

The course gives a practical and experiential introduction to a range of mindfulness practices. The skills developed on this course serve as life-long skills enabling increased resilience, confidence and lasting physical and psychological benefits.

As a mental health and general nurse, Lucy understands the importance of making people feel comfortable and taking care of self.

A previous participant of this course has said: "I have gained so much from attending the MBSR course."

"The course contained a good mixture of discussion and meditation practice, with Lucy creating a comfortable, relaxed and friendly atmosphere to learn and practice in."

"The group was a nice size, with us all becoming a close unit by the end and we all supported each other during the sessions with advice and sharing experiences."

"The meditations have helped me enormously with coping with anxious feelings and has allowed me to become more mindful and accepting of my emotions."

"I feel more energised and calmer since completing the course and it's given me great strength knowing I have added a valuable practice to my coping toolbox. I can't recommend this course enough. Many thanks."

The course costs £180 for the 8 weeks with some partly funded places available for Lyme Regis residents via Lyme Net.

For more information or to book on go to www.growagain.co.uk or call Lucy on 07554 451347.

Care home fete breaks fundraising record

THE annual Coneygar Lodge fete has raised a record breaking amount for the Alzheimer's Society.

This year, staff at the residential care home were also touched by local resident Kristy Stordy's mission to fundraise for the Alzheimer's Society after her dad Jon Lee was diagnosed with dementia in 2011, that they wanted to help her through their fete.

James Cross, director of Coneygar Lodge, said: "This year we held our charity fete on September 10th in aid of the Jon Lee Alzheimer's Research Trust, set-up in conjunction with the Alzheimer's Society.

"After hearing the sad story of what Jon's family have been through during his fight with dementia, we wanted to contribute.

"After discussions with the family, they welcomed the idea of our care home helping with the fundraising.

"With lots of hard work from our staff and from Jon's family, I am pleased to say our fete was a resounding success.

"On the day we had an amazing raffle with prizes donated from many local businesses – thanks to all that contributed – which included a helicopter ride, a TV, a birds of prey display, bric-a-brac and much more. Our residents had knitted blankets and made cards to sell on an arts and crafts stall. We were also entertained by Sarah Hannam who donated her time for free to sing for us.

"The culmination of all the hard work was an enjoyable afternoon for our visitors, residents and staff and I am pleased to announce that we raised £830 for charity, which is our best result in over 10 years of holding the fete. Congratulations to all involved or who donated."

Kristy is also taking part in a memory walk on Saturday, September 17th starting at 10.30am from Bridport Co-op to The Marquis of Lorne pub in Nettlecombe.

THE Friends of St Mary's Church are inviting everyone to their AGM, taking place on Thursday, September 22nd at 7.30pm in the church.

Chairman John Russell said: "I want to involve more town people and businesses in preserving the medieval building in South Street, particularly now when the church has an appeal for £115,000 to repair the roof over the north aisle.

"The church is more than a place of worship, it is part of the urban landscape, it makes a large contribution to the character of the town and its civic focus."

The programme for the AGM includes a presentation about the roof appeal, an explanation of the work of the group, entertainment and refreshments.

Allotment Society meeting to be held at council offices

Arts centre cafe set to reopen its doors today

THE new Bridport Arts Centre café has opened its doors today (Wednesday, September 14th) as refurbishment work comes to an end at the venue.

The newly titled Dorset Market Kitchen is a stylish and relaxing space located in the refurbished Bridport Arts Centre.

Local resident Kieran James is now at the helm, along with his wife Bernice, and they are joined by long term staff members Lorraine Marsden and Denise Buchanan.

The new café bar is now located at the left hand side of what was the old school house. The entire building is Grade II listed and all the changes have been sympathetically made to retain the historic importance, charm and character of before – but it is now a more open and contemporary setting.

Thanks to the new bigger kitchen, there will be a more extensive menu of freshly cooked, locally sourced food, including a seasonal set lunch menu.

The new menu features artisan sandwiches, homemade soup, tagines and fish & chips.

Kieran and his family have recently moved to Dorset where they have been building quite a reputation.

Residents and visitors may have enjoyed his food at many events around the town over the past year; his Dorset Market Kitchen has been a regular sight as Bridport market and special events such as Christmas Cheer and the Melplash Show.

Kieran said: "I am so excited to be finally opening the doors. It has been my dream to be able to run my own café bar and to have the opportunity to be a part of such a fantastic venue is great! I know how important the arts centre and the café is to the people of Bridport so I hope everyone is pleased with the changes.

"While some things will be different, I am delighted that Denise and Lorraine will be joining me so you can rely on the same friendly welcome that you would expect at the arts centre!"

BRIDPORT'S very own wine producer, Furleigh Estate, has impressed a rigorous panel of fizz experts at the Champagne and Sparkling Wine World Championships (CSWWC).

Furleigh's Brut Rose 2010 was awarded a silver medal in a blind tasting amongst hundreds of other sparkling wines of similar style and origin.

According to competition founder, judge and wine writer Tom Stevenson, the goal of the CSWWC is to award excellence and guide consumers to the very best sparkling wines.

The competition only awards gold and silver medals, unlike other wine competitions that award bronze, and commended to around 30 per cent of wines that enter.

By doing so the organisers believe it raises the bar on the standards, thus supporting its reputation of having a tough a rigorous judging process.

Furleigh Estate owner Rebecca Hansford said: "We are no strangers to the rigorous tasting process that wines undergo at both UK and international competitions, especially the CSWWC, which they call the toughest fizz competition on the planet!

"It is a great achievement to be awarded a silver medal for one of our best selling sparkling wines.

"As a small producer it is especially rewarding and satisfying to know that we are up there on the medal list with some of the world's biggest and oldest champagne and sparkling wine producers."

Furleigh has had a fantastic run of awards so far this year – the Brut Rose picked up another trophy at the International Wine Championships, along with silver for the Classic Cuvee; and Furleigh's Bacchus Fume 2014 won a trophy at the English and Welsh Wine of the Year Competition for the most outstanding oaked white wine.

First public event for Borough Gardens with No Limits Dance

■ THE band made a grand entrance into the gardens to join members of No Limits Dance

MEMBERS of the Borough Gardens Community Group were delighted to welcome their first ever public event, which was held on Bridport Hat Festival Saturday.

No Limits Dance – a company of adults with and without learning disabilities, who have been creating dance and live music together since 2011 – put on a spectacular show, decorating the garden with streamers and bunting.

Local musician Andrew Dickson's band made a grand entrance from Bucky Doo Square and processed around the garden to accompany and inspire the dancers.

Maggie Ray, a member of the Borough Gardens Community Group, said: "We were pleased to report an enthusiastic attendance by onlookers, who marvelled at the dancing and applauded each phase. The show culminated with a lovely performance by a beautiful butterfly."

■ THE Borough Gardens Community Group had their first ever public event when No Limits Dance performed in the gardens on Hat Festival Saturday earlier this month mance by a beautiful butterfly.

"Our group all agreed that it was a very uplifting experience. Thank you to all involved and we look forward to further performances."

To find out more about No Limits Dance, contact Anna Golding at goldinganna@gmail.com

The Borough Gardens Community Group was set up in 2012 to transform the public space into a garden of colour to be enjoyed by both residents and visitors.

Members meet every Wednesday from 10am to 12noon, weather permitting, to weed, plant and care for the garden and everyone is welcome to join them.

Next WATAG meeting on 22nd

THE next meeting of the West Dorset Western Area Transport Action Group (WATAG) will be held on Thursday, September 22nd at the WI Hall, North Street, Bridport, at 6.30pm.

This month the group will look at the outcome of the public and school transport review consultation, which ran for eight weeks between May 27th and July 22nd.

A spokesperson for the group said: "The figures seem to support the proposal to axe numerous routes across Dorset. The effect on users who rely on these services will be dramatic and are likely to lead to lifestyle changes out of proportion to the savings being made and the cost savings per household when spread across the county."

They will also discuss the winter timetables from First which commence on October 9th.

There will also be a democratic session when anyone may raise new questions about local bus and rail services.

The Art Class You Always Wanted

Seven local students visit Japan to mark 20th anniversary of exchange programme

THE 20th anniversary of the Bridport Young Persons Action Trust's Japanese exchange programme was marked this year with seven local young people living with Japanese families for three weeks this summer.

The group leader was Ben Spicer – who had himself been a young person on the exchange 15 years earlier – and the previous summer, seven Japanese students, members of Tokyo's Koyamada Educational Foundation, visited and stayed for three weeks with their partners and families in Bridport, Lyme Regis and Uplyme.

Arthur Woodgate, exchange founder and co-ordinator, said: "I think we are lucky with the way it has worked out.

"When the Japanese come here they are really stepping into the unknown. A year later our group is certainly facing a different culture half way round the world, but they also have the good fortune to have a dear friend and their family waiting to spoil them rotten."

The hosting programme provided the students with a wealth of experience, including visits to Studio Ghibli and Tokyo Disneyland, riding on the bullet train Shinkansen, taking part in local festivals, white water rafting, visiting Shinto and Buddhist Shrines and temples, and taking part in the ancient Tea Ceremony.

Student Catie Fenner said: "My family did everything they could to make me feel welcomed. They were all so lovely and generous.

"I was overwhelmed by the opportunities they presented me with. My Japanese is bad, but we communicated well and had fun. I could not have been happier."

Jack Bradley agreed and said: "The most impressive thing in Japan for me was the people. Everyone I met was so nice and made me feel so welcome in their country. There wasn't a point in Japan where I felt out of place or not welcome.

"My partners and hosting family were the best. Almost instantly it felt like these people were my second family and they actually wanted me in their home. When can I go back to Japan?"

A highlight of the trip is the visit to Kansai Province and the ancient city of Kyoto and Miyajima. The most memorable is the stay in Hiroshima.

Aurelia Welch said: "I felt incredibly grateful to have been able to go. I think that many more should visit around the world – particularly from countries with nuclear weapons."

Applications for the 2017/18 exchange from people aged 15 to 18 living in West Dorset are now being accepted. Contact a.c.woodgate@btinternet.com or call 01308 423767.

Magna to build 600 homes across region

LOCAL housing provider, Magna Housing, has announced that it will start building homes for rent and shared ownership in West Dorset and other areas.

Magna is planning to build 600 homes over the next five years across Dorset and Somerset with 300 of those being for shared ownership and 300 for social rent, which feature rents lower than in the private sector.

The social rented homes will be at a rent of about £86 per week for a one bed property and about £106 per week for a three bed property.

Shared ownership properties let people buy as much of the house as they can afford whilst enjoying a low rent on the rest of it.

David Aldwinckle, Magna Housing Association director, said: "We support the communities we are based in and we know there is a need for houses that people can afford to rent or buy.

"We will be setting rents at the social rent level which are the lowest of all the different types of rent possible.

"By building shared ownership homes too, we are making a more affordable option available for anyone who wants to own their home."

The new homes will be built in Magna's core area of operation which includes West Dorset, Weymouth and Portland, North Dorset and South Somerset.

Cllr Tim Yarker, West Dorset District Council's housing portfolio holder, said: "It is really good news that Magna are building again. There is a constant demand for high quality social housing in the area which we struggle to satisfy. Magna's return to development will provide a welcome boost to supply and will help local people.

"In addition, there are many people who want to own a home that they can afford. By building shared ownership properties as well, Magna is helping to plug this gap."

Adam Peat, chairman of Magna's board, said: "Magna is really proud to be undertaking such a large building programme over the next five years, which will truly meet our purpose of helping people meet their housing needs."

Anyone who is interested in applying for social housing should contact West Dorset District Council.

Anyone who is interested in buying a shared ownership property should register at Help to Buy South West at www.helptobuysw.org.uk

Final series of Broadchurch promises to be more local than ever

PRODUCER Dan Winch has revealed that the Dorset coastline will feature more extensively than ever in the third and final series of the smash-hit ITV drama Broadchurch.

Set to be broadcast in spring 2017, the latest installment of the multi-award winning television show is currently filming in West Bay and will once again use the now world famous golden Bridport sand cliffs as a backdrop.

Dan said: "It's essential for the show that this final series is rooted in the beautiful countryside our audience will recognise from series one and two. It wouldn't be Broadchurch if we weren't here in Dorset! We've strived to put as much of West Bay and various new locations in the surrounding area on screen as possible."

Broadchurch is written by Chris Chibnall – inspired by the area in which he lived – and stars David Tennant and Olivia Colman, as DI Hardy and Ellie Miller, two police officers whose lives and careers are irrevocably changed after a child's body is found at the bottom of the East Cliff. The harrowing storylines and relatable local characters have had the nation gripped, with an estimated eight million viewers tuning in to the second series finale.

The new series explores the consequences of a serious sexual assault as the Dorset community comes under the scrutiny of Hardy and Miller's investigation.

Based on a year of research with a Dorset-based organisation who specialise in dealing with victims of sexual assault, and police advisors who specialise in investigating crimes of sexual violence, Broadchurch's final chapter looks at the emotional cost to all of those involved and the irreparable damage to friendships and relationships.

"Series three explores another dark happening in this beautiful place. Whilst we're dealing with a very sensitive and dreadful subject matter, there's lightness and humour with our much loved characters. Lots has happened in the three years since our audience last visited Broadchurch," Dan said.

A plethora of stars, including Julie Hesmondhalgh, Lenny Henry, and Sarah Parish (who's originally from nearby Yeovil) join the cast and along with the creative team, have enjoyed the welcome they have received from locals, while staying in caravan parks in the area during the filming.

Dan said: "The welcome we've received on returning to Dorset has been wonderful. We couldn't have achieved what we have done without such brilliant support from the residents, businesses and holiday makers we've worked with an met along the way."

Keep a look out for more updates here, including an interview with one of the new cast members, who tells us a bit more about the new series.

Advertiser's Announcement

Try your hand at ploughing and hedgelaying

THIS year's annual Melplash Agricultural Society Ploughing and Hedgelaying Match returns to Beaminster next week, taking place on Sunday, September 25th from 9.30am to 4.30pm at Higher Langdon Farm, Beaminster, by kind permission of Tessa McKenzie-Green.

There are eight classes in the ploughing competition, ranging from vintage to modern conventional and reversible, and this year the society is hosting the Dorset Young Farmers' competition.

The local class is for the competitors who live within a 12-mile radius of Melplash Church and local Michael Fooks will be hoping to successfully defend his title.

The judges will not only be looking for straight furrows, but conformity, burying of trash and a level line of start and finishing.

There will also be a tractor and plough for members of the public to have a go, under the watchful eye of previous champions.

Running concurrently is the society's hedgelaying match, where competitors will have to lay a section of hedge in the 'Dorset Style'.

There are seven classes to suit every ability from pairs and novices to the local experts. The competition is used by some competitors as practice for the national hedgelaying competition taking place in Chester next month.

The Melplash Agricultural Society committee is offering a free hedgelaying training day on Sunday, September 18th at Lower Newnham Farm in Broadwindsor, starting at 10am and finishing at 3pm and is open to everyone to attend.

Here past winners and coaches will be passing on years of knowledge and techniques to the most complete novice or rookie competitors who fancy entering the main competition a week later.

On the competition day there will be free parking and entry, a scarecrow competition, a Discover Farming exhibition, local saw mill demonstration and a burger and refreshment van.

For more information about the event or registering for the training day, call 01308 423337 or email lucy@melplashshow.co.uk

Children's scarecrow competition

CHILDREN are being encouraged to design and build a scarecrow and have it displayed at the Melplash Agricultural Society's annual hedgelaying and ploughing match on Sunday, September 25th.

The competition is free to enter and there are great cash prizes on offer for the winning scarecrow.

For an entry form visit www.melplashshow.co.uk or pick up an application from Bridport Tourist Information Centre. Entries close on Thursday, September 22nd.

Bus strikes could go on until Christmas

BUS strikes could continue until Christmas as Unite, the union representing the striking drivers, has withdrawn from arbitration talks with ACAS.

Representatives from Unite had previously agreed to take part in the talks – designed to bring a resolution to the ongoing pay dispute between First and more than 110 of its Bridport and Weymouth drivers – but now claim First bosses demanded 'draconian' conditions be imposed before arbitration talks could start, which included the talks to be legally binding.

According to the union, the drivers voted overwhelmingly to reject the conditions and for a further industrial action ballot to be held which, depending on the result, could mean a further 12 weeks of strike action running over the Christmas and New Year period.

Unite regional officer Bob Lanning said: "Our members voted overwhelmingly to withdraw from the ACAS talks because of the draconian conditions that the management tried to impose before the talks had even begun."

"The talks about poverty pay would have been hobbled before they had started."

"It is Unite's long-standing view that any deal hammered out at the proposed arbitration talks should be put to a vote of the members, which is normal employment practice."

"The company wanted talks to be legally binding, which would have meant that our members would not have a vote on any deal that had been hammered out in their name. That is not fair."

"The company also wanted a clause saying there could be no industrial action for three months following arbitration talks. This could have meant that company sacking the drivers and they could not take any action to protect their jobs. Again, that is not fair."

"We now have several weeks before the result of the next industrial action ballot is known, which could see strikes continuing into the Christmas period."

"We would urge management to use this interval to negotiate a fair settlement and end this misery that the company by its anti-union actions is inflicting on the travelling public."

However, Marc Reddy, managing director of First Dorset, Hampshire and Berkshire, claims that the union had no intention of entering talks and said that a resolution is unclear until the union 'stops playing games'.

He said: "This latest u-turn from the union is very disappointing. Throughout this entire dispute they have acted irresponsibly and without sound reason or judgement. I fear that our drivers are being misled and misadvised by their union officials."

"In this latest episode, it is clear that the union had no intention of entering in to a process whereby an independently appointed arbitrator makes a decision on pay, despite publicly stating an appetite to enter arbitration talks. When arbitration takes place industrial action normally ceases. Indeed the decision to withdraw from arbitration talks followed a secret ballot which we know many union members had no knowledge of."

"We remain absolutely committed to resolving this dispute as soon as possible and allow our driver to revert to what they do best – transporting customers."

"However, until the union stops playing games, it is difficult to foresee a resolution in the short term."

Councillors split over Domino's windows

CALLS for Domino's Pizza to reinstate the sloping windows of the premises they are occupying in Tannery Road has split town councillors.

The take-away chain replaced the sloping windows, even though original planning permission from West Dorset District Council stated they should be retained. They then applied for retrospective permission.

Cllr Dave Rickard wants the sloping windows to be reinstalled as he says it is about "abiding by laws".

He said: "In planning terms the issue is not about who runs it or whether it provides employment, it is about abiding by laws of what is acceptable within planning law and especially in a conservation area.

"This was an iconic building with a significant history going back to the 50s. The design was protected by the planning permission specifically stating that the window alignment was to remain the same. That meant that if they felt that the windows needed to be replaced then they had to be done so in a like-for-like manner.

"The existing windows may have had a safety issue, but this was due to their age, not their design.

"In terms of what people wanted in Bridport it was clear that the majority of the planning committee would rather it was run by a local independent person using local produce than a large American multinational company, where money disappears not only out of Bridport, but out of Britain.

"There was also concern that the original function of the café, which was to provide a varied mix of affordable refreshments to travellers using the bus station – a task it did well for many decades – had been lost.

"Now it caters for fast food which is expensive and results in litter around the town. This of course is not a planning issue but it does nothing to enhance the reputation of Bridport."

However, Cllr Keith Day feels it would be costly and unnecessary to change the windows back, adding that Domino's has improved the building.

He said: "I don't know what all the fuss is about. It is not a listed building and in its original guise had little architectural merit. It did not enhance our town.

"I believe the residents of Bridport are grateful that Domino's were prepared to take on and improve what was the 'Café Royal'. Forcing the company to reinstate the sloping windows in unnecessary, costly and is not to anyone's advantage.

"Therefore, please allow Domino's to leave the building as it is and be glad that it is no longer the run-down, down-market structure that it was. They will not be the first organisation to apply for retrospective planning approval – or the last! "Bridport is a town with many buildings of outstanding architectural interest – but, alas this is not one of them. Reinstating the sloping windows will not change that."

The retrospective planning application to change the windows is currently with West Dorset District Council and can be found at www.dorsetforyou.com

Sunday tea and chat future uncertain

A MONTHLY free high tea and chat has been provided in Bridport United Church Hall on the third Sunday of the month since September 2009, but could cease later this year if numbers do not improve.

Unfortunately the numbers attending has seen a dramatic reduction over the last two years and the organising committee – comprising of representatives of local churches – held a special meeting to discuss the future of the tea and chat.

The committee decided to continue the event, which takes place from 3pm to 4.30pm, on September 18th, October 16th and November 20th.

However, if there is not a significant increase in numbers attending the tea and chat it could cease after November.

Tea and chat is an example of churches working together to provide a monthly event for people on their own on a Sunday afternoon and is an opportunity to spend the afternoon being entertained and making new friends.

The next tea and chat is on Sunday, September 18th and anyone needing more information or would like transport to be able to attend, contact Tom Murphy on 01308 455674.

Puppet club course runs again

THE Lyric Theatre's puppet club is back with a five-week course for those wanting to have a go.

The club has proven very popular over the years with people of all ages learning how to make their own puppets.

Waterstones in Bridport also have a 'back to school' window display featuring some of the puppets made in puppet club.

The club is led by puppet maker Holly Miller, upstairs in the Lyric Theatre, where people will use recycled materials to create an animal, person or creature they can take home at the end of the course.

The next five-week course starts on September 19th running through to October 17th and taking place on Monday evenings from 5pm to 6.30pm.

Places are limited and those wishing to attend should book early to avoid disappointment by emailing admin@the-lyric.com or calling 01308 423951.

mand of the Hong Kong patrol vessel HMS Monkton.

POTS OF PIZZAZZ IN AUTUMN

By Hannah Stephenson, Press Association

DON'T worry if your summer containers are now past their best because you can perk up your pots with autumn plantings that will give you colour and texture through the cooler months and beyond.

There are two approaches to autumn and winter pots, says Jeremy Hall, group plant buyer for Squire's Garden Centres, which are holding workshops on how to create an autumn colour barrel on Friday, September 16.

"If you are a tonal person and like things in harmony, a good way of doing that is to match the colour of the flowers to the colour of the foliage you are using. Lamium with silver foliage and a pink flower would look great with the silver foliage of cyclamen.

"If you take an, 'I like it mixed' approach and like rustic charm, heucheras are great at giving contrast of foliage. I'd probably use two colours of heuchera together - go for a burgundy type with a bright yellow one.

"To get some flower colour in there, I'd use autumn flowering callunas (heathers) called 'Garden Girls', which come in a host of colours. Their buds swell, but never open, but they last ages."

Other combinations he recommends include Ajuga 'Black Scallop' - very dark almost black foliage - planted with white mini cyclamen, or with the silver foliage of calocephalus.

For a traditional autumn feeling try orange pansies and viola with Ajuga 'Burgundy Glow', which has a pink through to burgundy foliage colour. Alternatively go for a tonal effect by combining the ajuga with pink mini cyclamen.

"Lamium 'Beacon Silver' is another great subject for tonal planting. Its silver foliage edged in green is a great foil for pinks and whites."

Permanent plantings of acid-loving plants such as azaleas will require ericaceous compost in the pot, but if you are just planting up your pots short-term to last from autumn to spring, a multi-purpose compost with added feed should suffice, he advises.

Flowering plants such as pansies and violas which bloom in autumn become dormant in the winter months, but will re-emerge and flower again in spring.

Other autumn and winter favourites, such as heathers, skimmia, ivy and other evergreens will give you at least some interest in the cooler months and if you plant some bulbs underneath them in autumn such as dwarf narcissi or muscari, they will add colour in spring.

"In our autumn barrel, we are using the miniature daffodil 'Tete-a-tete', which is the most popular because it's small growing and produces three or four flowers from a single bulb from February onwards," Hall explains.

"Bear in mind the height of the plants in the pot versus the flowering height of the bulbs you put underneath them. You can get a pleasing effect if you put tulips in which are clearly going flower above the height of other plants. But if they are too tall it will look crazy.

"If you use a mixture of bulbs you'll get a succession of flowers. Muscari are our second most popular, which flower just after the dwarf narcissi."

Plant hellebores in pots in the autumn and they should give you winter interest. "I'd recommend Helleborus niger for pots. 'Christmas Carol' flowers really early, as does 'Verboom Beauty'. They will flower just before Christmas if you're lucky and then right through to March. They prefer a slightly shadier location, but aren't really fussy about soil."

Put more plants in your pots when autumn-planting than you do in summer, Hall advises.

"As the day length is shortening and light intensity is not so great, the growth rate is much smaller and, other than a filling out, you won't get plants overflowing like you do in summer."

Good specimens for permanent containers which will provide winter interest include Choisya ternata 'Sundance', which gives a fabulous splash of golden yellow foliage colour followed by fragrant white flowers in mid-spring.

If you want berries in winter, add Skimmia japonica subsp. 'Reevesiana' to your display, a small, spreading female shrub with deep green leaves which produces clusters of bright red berries in winter.

Ornamental cabbages are gaining in popularity as good breeding work has helped produce more compact plants, he points out. 'Curly Pink', 'Curly White' and 'Curly Red' are the most popular. They'll last up until Christmas, although the best colour comes from them when the nights are colder and are good combined with heucheras.

Ornamental grasses such as pennisetums are also gaining popularity, their seedheads giving soft, wispy movement to containers and will come back year after year. Combine them with violas, hederas and callunas for further colour, he suggests.

■ FOLK-punk band Black Water County are to headline The Ropemakers' food- and fundraising event

Ropemakers to host day of music for local food bank

THE Ropemakers pub in Bridport is hosting a day of music to raise money for a local food bank, Cupboard Love, as part of 'We Shall Overcome', a national weekend of gigs which will see over 250 concerts across the UK, and beyond, all under one banner.

'We Shall Overcome' is a community effort led by musicians and music promoters who want to do something practical to help people in their area who are being hit hard by homelessness and poverty.

The event is happening across the UK and over 200 events are being held in October, with The Ropemakers gig being on Saturday, October 8th.

Several thousand musicians will perform as audiences are encouraged to bring food for food banks or make donations to homelessness and other projects.

Keith Hatch, one of the organisers of the gig at The Ropemakers, said: "We Shall Overcome is very much pro-community initiative with events the length of the country aimed at supporting local projects.

"We wanted to do our bit here in Bridport to show solidarity and be part of something big that's happening right across the country.

"Cupboard Love has been doing a brilliant job providing food parcels to those in need in the area, and unfortunately the numbers that need to make use of their services continues to grow.

"I thought it really important to get involved in We Shall Overcome and support our local food bank."

Last year's event raised over £750 to help people in Bridport using the food bank, and this year organisers hope to top that.

Headlining the event will be Black Water County, a folk punk band, and the bands and musicians taking part throughout the rest of the day include Natures Cage, Garry Smith Band, Those Voices Poor, Ruthy Ni Conallian, Abi Rich, Behind Closed Doors and Jamie McDonald.

The Ropemakers event is on Saturday, October 8th and runs from 3pm to late with admission free, but audiences are being asked to make a donation to Cupboard Love food bank.

Afternoon tea party

LOCAL resident Jade Young will be holding a second fundraising tea party in aid of Crohn's and Colitis UK on Sunday, September 25th.

Her first event in January raised nearly £1,000 and was so popular that she has chosen a larger venue of St Mary's Church House in South Street, Bridport.

She hopes that anyone who missed her first tea party could come along and for those who enjoyed it last time will come again and support the charity.

She is busy preparing cakes for the event, especially dairy free and gluten free, and tea and coffee will also be on sale, along with a raffle and cake sale.

The event will take place from 2pm to 4pm.

Crohn's and Colitis UK provides information and support to those with colitis or Crohn's disease, while fundraising for welfare services and research.

Dorset in top 14 forces supporting those with mental health problems

DORSET Police has been rated among the top 14 forces when supporting those with mental health problems.

A mental health street triage service for Dorset continues to reduce the number of times a custody suite has been used as a place of safety for those suffering a mental health crisis.

National data released by the National Police Chiefs' Council (NPCC) shows that in Dorset for the 2015/16 financial year, police custody was used as a place of safety under Section 136 of the Mental Health Act on 10 occasions. This is a reduction of 83 per cent on the previous year and an overall reduction of 91 per cent since the mental health triage scheme started in 2014.

The project sees mental health practitioners assisting police officers on patrol every evening between the hours of 7pm and 3am. The aim is to provide police officers attending an incident with background medical information, advice and if needed, a full assessment regarding the mental health of a person.

As part of the street triage service, mental health practitioners from Dorset Healthcare conduct a telephone triage service to support police officers out on patrol, assisting officers when they are responding to emergency calls and giving advice to staff in police call rooms.

Officers are also able to request the assistance of the practitioners at the scene of incidents.

Stan Sadler, service manager for criminal justice liaison and diversion and street triage at Dorset Healthcare, said: "The street triage pilot has given access to vital information on treatment approaches, ensuring operational partnerships are much better equipped in these situations.

"Joint working between health services, social care agencies and police provides more informed and coordinated responses to people experiencing a mental health crisis.

"The opportunity to work in partnership during implementation and delivery of street triage in Dorset has given some outstanding rewards. Use of police custody as a place of safety, for example, has been almost eradicated during the pilot period.

"It is essential that we maintain our momentum through partnerships, integrate intervention into a wider crisis care pathway and continue to pioneer innovative approaches to crisis resolution."

The service is available to people of all ages, whether they have learning disabilities, personality disorder, substance misuse or mental health issues. The force will also liaise with other agencies for continued support afterwards.

Chief Inspector Guy Shimmons, of Dorset Police, said: "This is welcome news for Dorset. This scheme ensures the most appropriate care for vulnerable people and also provides proper support for police officers.

"By working together in this way, we can improve services for people with mental health issues."

The scheme diverts people away from the Criminal Justice System, when appropriate, and provides access to community-based services, thereby ensuring that their health and social care needs are known and provided for by appropriate services.

Martyn Underhill, Dorset Police and Crime Commissioner, said: "It is crucial that people with mental health problems get the right care in the right place, at the right time.

"I am delighted that this scheme is consistently reducing the number of people who are detained under Section 136 of the Mental Health Act.

"With the support of health professionals, officers have the assistance they need to treat vulnerable people appropriately in times of crisis. This is a huge achievement in our partnership work between health services and the police."

The Office of the Dorset Police and Crime Commissioner provides a major contribution to funding the triage scheme, alongside contributions from Dorset Police, Bournemouth Borough Council, Poole Borough Council, Dorset County Council, NHS Dorset Clinical Commissioning Group and NHS England.

RSPCA wins 'Best hatted window'

■ THE RSPCA Bridport charity shop has been named as the winner of this year's Bridport Hat Festival 'best hatted shop window' competition.

The award is sponsored by Stags estate agents and the shop in West Street was presented with an engraved glass trophy, a bottle of prosecco and some chocolates for their wildlife-themed display, which featured numerous toy animals sporting different types of hats.

The committee had a difficult job in determining the winner as there were some very elegant and colourful entries, but the sheer ingenuity and humour of the RSPCA's window won the judges over.

Pictured is Chris McCaughey (right) of Stags estate agents, presenting the award to Heather Puttock of the RSPCA Bridport charity shop.

Twice-monthly Bridport Blind Club

BRIDPORT Blind Club has room for new visually impaired, partially sighted or blind members and their friends, who are encouraged to come along.

The club meet twice a month on a Tuesday afternoon for entertainment, a chat and afternoon tea at Bridport United Church Hall.

Recent meetings have included poetry please, when volunteers, members and invited readers delivered poems and selected prose, as well as enjoying their second coach trip of the year to Bennets Water Garden.

The group have also been entertained by a retired professional comedian and with a quiz.

Anyone who is visually impaired or knows somebody who is, is invited to get in touch. The club can generally provide transport to meetings.

Top – and tiniest – of the crops at villages' flower and dog show

■ COMMITTEE members are celebrating another successful Whitchurch, Morcombelake and Ryall flower and dog show.

There was a great turnout, with entries in the 128 different classes being up on last year's, as was the number of show visitors.

The potato dig competition, which involves growing a single potato in a bucket, with the heaviest crop weighed on the day winning, was a big hit again.

This year's winner was Caroline House (pictured right) with a crop of 9lb and 5.8oz, and coming last – but winning a potato peeler – was flower show chairman Paul White (shown left) with a crop of 0lb and 8.8oz.

The show committee would like to extend their heartfelt thanks to all the show volunteers and sponsors as without them the show would not happen or be the success that it was.

Dorset Police say 'thank you' for supporting this year's 101 campaign

AS this year's 101 campaign to educate residents on the appropriate use of the service comes to an end, Dorset Police want to thank the public for their support.

The campaign was designed to raise awareness of the correct use of the 101 service and the alternative online contact methods available.

All of the examples of the inappropriate use of the 101 service used throughout the campaign were genuine calls received by Dorset Police in 2016.

The new Dorset Police website has a 'do it online' function that allows users to make general enquiries, report non-urgent crime and incidents online. It is a quicker and easier alternative to calling 101 and it can be found at www.dorset.police.uk

Inappropriate calls received by 101 operators tie up police non-emergency phone lines and cause delays for those callers who genuinely need help.

Callers can waste valuable police time by calling them incorrectly and potentially waiting in a queue only to be redirected to another agency.

Superintendent Caroline Naughton, contact management at Dorset Police, said: "We are working hard to ensure we offer the very best service to our public, but the only way we will achieve this is with your help."

"Please make sure your enquiry is a police matter and use the Dorset Police website to help signpost you, as this is likely to save you time. In addition you can make enquiries online."

"Once again thank you for your support with this campaign. Please remember to think before you call. If we work together we can offer you a better service."

Martyn Underhill, Dorset Police and Crime Commissioner, said: "It is vital members of the public contact the correct agency for their query."

"The 101 team regularly receive calls that are nothing to do with the police – 'my takeaway is cold', 'there is a dead fox in my garden' and 'how do I cancel my bank card' are typical examples of unnecessary calls the team receive every day.

"We have introduced a range of services online, available through the Dorset Police website to help reduce demand on the system and I continue to monitor the force on call handling performance."

Dorset Police are always there in an emergency and if a crime is in progress or a life is in danger, always call 999.

Police report

POLICE are appealing for witnesses and anyone with information on the following crimes to contact them on 101 quoting the relevant occurrence number.

■ On Wednesday, August 31st at around 8pm, a garden shed door at Middlehill Farm, Marrowbone Lane, Bridport, was forced open and a Stihl chainsaw, Stihl petrol hedge trimmer and Stihl brush cutter were stolen. Police are reminding members of the public to mark their property with a house number and postcode for identification purposes in case of theft. Occurrence number 55160131733 refers.

■ On Thursday, September 1st at around 4.30pm, an iPhone 6S was stolen from The Station Kitchen in West Bay. The phone was left on the counter in the restaurant and when the owner returned 20 minutes later the phone was gone. Occurrence number 55160132317 refers.

Gas Safety Week

.co.uk

Keeping our nation safe

19th - 25th September

www.gassaferegister.co.uk

GAS Safety Week is a national safety campaign to raise awareness of gas safety in the UK's 23 million gas fuelled homes. It is co-ordinated by Gas Safe Register with support from the gas industry including retailers, manufacturers, consumer bodies and the public.

The sixth annual Gas Safety Week will see organisations from across the UK working together to raise awareness of the dangers of poorly maintained gas appliances, which can cause gas leaks, fires, explosions and carbon monoxide (CO) poisoning.

Why get involved?

Be part of a national safety campaign, joining thousands of organisations across the UK to help people stay safe as well as raising the profile of your organisation. Here are some of the reasons that businesses take part:

Corporate social responsibility - help protect your customers and save lives. Carbon monoxide poisoning affects over a thousand people each year and can be fatal.

Looking for new content? You can use the free gas safety materials as part of your own advertising campaign.

5,123 organisations supported Gas Safety Week 2015 - don't miss out to your competitors. Improve your brand awareness - all supporters appear on the website

Did you know?

EVERY year thousands of people across the UK are diagnosed with carbon monoxide poisoning. It is a highly poisonous gas. You can't see it, taste it or smell it, but it can kill quickly with no warning.

New research, released for Gas Safety Week, revealed that 5.5 million people in the UK are failing to get their gas appliances safety checked each year. With more than 67,000 gas emergency call-outs to homes in the UK in the past year (including gas leaks, fires, explosions and deadly carbon monoxide poisoning).

Although there is awareness that gas appliances need to be safety checked annually, 43% of Britons don't do it, and 10% have gas appliances which have never been checked (Gas Safety Week Research 2011).

Keep your home safe

BADLY fitted and poorly serviced gas cookers, fires and boilers can put you at risk from carbon monoxide poisoning, gas leaks, fires and explosions. Just like you get your car MOT every year, you should have your home gas safety checked every year by a Gas Safe registered engineer.

- ✓ Check your gas appliances every year
- ✓ Check your engineer is Gas Safe registered
- ✓ Check your engineer's Gas Safe ID card

Top tips to stay Gas Safe

WE RELY on our gas boilers, cookers and fires to keep warm, have hot baths and showers and cook hot meals. It's important that gas appliances are safety checked every year and regularly serviced to help keep us safe and prevent them from breaking down when we need them the most.

Stay Gas Safe in your home with these top tips:

1. Always use a Gas Safe registered engineer to fit, fix and service gas appliances in your home – it's the law and will help keep you safe.
2. Always ask to see an engineer's Gas Safe Register ID card and check the back of the card to ensure they are qualified to carry out the specific type of gas work you need.
3. Have all your gas appliances, including boilers, gas cookers and gas fires, safety checked every year.
4. Recognise the symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning – headaches, dizziness, nausea, breathlessness, collapse and loss of consciousness.
5. Check gas appliances for warning signs that they are not working properly e.g. lazy yellow flames instead of crisp blue ones, black marks or stains on or around the appliance and too much condensation in the room.
6. Buy an audible carbon monoxide alarm for your home and make sure it is located near to your gas appliances in accordance with the manufacturer's guidance. Carbon monoxide can leak from appliances and kill.
7. Anybody working with gas has to be Gas Safe registered by law. Report someone working without registration or call Gas Safe Register on the free phone number 0800 408 5500.

Stompin' Dave at The Sunray Folk Club

STOMPIN' Dave Allen is one of The Sunray Folk Club's most popular guests and he returns on Thursday, September 22nd. Dave plays guitar, banjo, fiddle and tap dances with a repertoire from blues to bluegrass and much in between.

With twenty five years of performing experience Stompin' Dave has worked exclusively as a musician and performed across the UK and beyond. Based in Bridport he has stomped onto the line-up of some top folk festivals including Cork Folk Festival, Warwick Folk Festival, Towersey Folk Festival, Priddy Folk Festival and many other folk festivals, and clubs. Dave really knows how to entertain and does it from the heart.

Also performing will be very fine singer songwriter and acoustic guitarist Bob Kirkpatrick who has run the club since it's inception in 2007 and has also performed at Folk Festivals across the UK. Bob is influenced by Tom Paxton, Ralph McTell, Joni Mitchell and James Taylor, but also local singer Terry Sinclair. He favours contemporary songs rather than the traditional.

The Sunray Folk Club runs monthly events at Broadmayne Village Hall, near Dorchester. All performances at The Sunray Folk Club are exclusively acoustic with no amplification.

Admission is £8 but an additional £1 club membership to the club is required. Call Bob on 07786 654074 for more information. Doors open at 7.30pm, the music starts at 8pm. Please visit www.sunrayfolkclub.co.uk for more details.

Be first to hear the new Mutter Slater album live!

MUTTER Slater was the frontman and flute player for the 70's band Stackridge, a group that established itself as a firm favourite on countless stages throughout the land.

Now the group have called it a day, the song writing and performing bug has got the better of him, leading to the recording of the new album The Champ.

The recording reflects Mutter's primary interest in 60's American blues, soul and R&B as well as his persistent addiction to, 'A half decent tune'. Just play 'I May Not Be An Angel', to see what we mean.

Billy Bragg said: 'Mutter Slater has one of the greatest voices of British rock, and he writes a mean song too!' We could not have said it better!

To launch the new album due out this Friday (September 16th) on Angel Air Records, the band will be performing a short acoustic set in Bridport Music in South Street on Saturday (17th) at 3pm.

They will follow this with an evening set at The Crown Inn on the West Bay roundabout at 9.30pm.

Mutter who has a proven fan base as the frontman of Stackridge, has always had a love for music from a very early age.

Although born on the Isle of Wight, he has spent most of his life in South Somerset and West Dorset, and as a member of Stackridge they were chosen to open what was Michael Eavis' very first Glastonbury Festival in 1970; then called the Pilton Festival. They also opened Elton John's Midsummer Music show at Wembley Stadium in 1975 which also featured The Beach Boys and The Eagles.

Besides Mutter on lead vocals, the band comprises Chris Cleaver 9lead guitar), Clive Ashley (sax), Dan Wheeler (drums), Tom Hughes (organ), Ian Oliver (bass).

Joining Forces

SOUTHERN Tenant Folk Union are the Edinburgh based string band that over a series of albums have produced a thought provoking and arresting take on roots & folk music. Past winners of the 'Americana Artist Of The Year' award the band have taken their music onto BBC One TV's prime political show 'The Andrew Marr Show' plus Irish TV's world famous chat show 'The Late Late Show' as well as onto stages at prestigious festivals (Celtic Connections, Belfast Open House Festival, Orkney Folk Festival, Belladrum Festival, Electric Picnic and many more).

Live reviews of their concert performances have picked up on their 'tight delivery & soaring, gorgeous harmonies' saying that 'STFU are a must see live band combining a rich blend of musical talent with a high octave Appalachian style' and they perform their own brand of 'thrilling traditional musicianship'.

September 2016 sees the release of the seventh Southern Tenant Folk Union album 'Join Forces'. Written following the May 2015 general election result, and then recorded in June and July this year amidst a quickly changing political landscape, something that has made the suite of songs seem timelier still. The band will be touring to support the release throughout the remainder of 2016 and into Spring 2017.

Southern Tenant Folk Union's tour for the Join Forces album comes to Dorchester Corn Exchange on Saturday, September 30th at 8pm (doors and bar 7.30pm).

Tickets are £12, £10 for Dorchester Arts Members and concessions, and £5 as part of the Livefor5 scheme. For more details and to book call 01305 266926 or visit the website at www.dorchesterarts.org.uk

Mind boggling tricks in Parlour Tricks

ALLOW yourself to be transported back in time at Bridport Arts Centre with time travelling magic duo Morgan and West on Friday, September 30th. Their incredible show 'Parlour Tricks' is chock full of jaw-dropping, brain-bursting, gasp-eliciting feats of magic.

Set in Morgan and West Victorian Parlour, these two rather 'spiffing' chaps will entertain you with some mind boggling tricks. Rhys Morgan and Robert West are comedy magicians who can count Derren Brown as one of their fans. They don't rely on lights and special effects, they fully confess to being liars and cheats but they are so charming, you really don't mind. The show features traditional magic; cards and feats of memory, all delivered with witty banter and a warm camaraderie.

Morgan and West are skilled and incredibly talented and very enjoyable. The characters they project and the set where they work their magic feels new and fresh - breathing new life into old tricks. The dashing chaps offer up a plateful of illusion and impossibility, all served with wit, charm and no small amount of panache. Be sure to wear a hat - Morgan and West might just blow your mind!

Morgan and West bring 'Parlour Tricks' to Bridport Arts Centre on Friday, September 30th at 7.30pm. Tickets are £12/£10, available online at www.bridport-arts.com, or by calling 01308 424204

Artsreach continue their partnership with the Bournemouth Symphony Orchestra, bringing ensembles to rural venues. This season the Principal Winds and contemporary ensemble Kokoro will present new programmes in the County. Alec Dankworth is joined by some of Europe's leading jazz musicians including saxophonist Ben Castle and violinist Chris Garrick to present Spanish Accents. Legendary guitarist John Etheridge joins forces with sensational new vocal star Vimala Rowe for a musical journey around the world. Finally at Christmas, The Ridgeway Singers and Band present their much-loved traditional West Gallery Carol Concerts.

Several theatre companies are set to make their Artsreach debuts this autumn, along with a host of other popular touring companies. Award-winning international troupe of clowns Le Navet Bete bring to life an unbelievably idiotic Scarecrow, a Tin Man straight from under the Iron Curtain and a Lion whose West-End dreams seem just Over The Rainbow in their take on 'The Wizard of Oz'. With brilliant writing, dynamic projected images and live parkour,

Kali Theatre's My Big Fat Cowpat Wedding

DDT2 Productions' Kinetics promises to be a season highlight. Fast moving comedy drama 'My Big Fat Cowpat Wedding' by Kali Theatre is full of mishaps and misunderstandings as you join the guests at a celebration of a mixed marriage between a country girl and a lad from the city. Farnham Maltings team up with Bucket Club for Launch Party; a new play in which about ambition, what makes a person successful, home, and how, whether we leave or stay, we carry a piece of it with us. Tree House, another new play by Chris Fogg Productions, relates the fortunes of three people we meet as children and are reunited in adulthood. In Boiling Kettle's Defender of the Dead we follow Zac, a retired Army NCO employed to protect a sensitive archaeological site near Stonehenge. Inspired by the historic search for El Dorado, the insatiably curious Told by an Idiot bring Heads Will Roll, their dark epic comedy about delusion, vanity, and the corruption of power, to Dorset. Alison Neil returns for a final performance of 'The Fossil Lady of Lyme' in the brand new village hall at Kimmeridge, home to the world famous Etches fossil collection. Finally Miracle Theatre's Ciaran Clarke brings his own company Near-Ta Theatre to Dorset for a fantastical adventure through Dickens, pantomime, musical, Christmas dinner and Christmas films as celebrated by two men serving time at Her Majesty's Pleasure in Christmas. Time.

For an alternative evening's entertainment, Tim Dalling and Malcolm Green share stories of the huge colonies of seabirds that inhabit the Icelandic coast, with musical accompaniment and a humorous, yet heartfelt message. One-of-a-kind performer Lili La Scala performs an enthralling, upbeat hour of wartime classics, show tunes and decidedly bright-and-breezy numbers from yesteryear bound to put a spring in your step in Songs to make you Smile.

A highlight for the Artsreach team at this year's national touring conference, Lost Dog Dance present a one man staging of Milton's epic Paradise Lost, and not like whatever came into your head when you read the first bit of that sentence. Combining theatre, comedy and movement this is a journey through the story of the creation of everything and will be simply unmissable with just one performance in the County.

There's plenty for families to see too with five brilliant productions coming to Dorset during the autumn. The ever-popular Theatre Alibi present the funny and warming story of 'The Boy Who Climbed in to the Moon' by Skellig author David Almond. The marvellous magical duo Morgan & West return, but this time with an Utterly Spiffing Spectacular Magic Show for Kids. Artsreach favourites PuppetCraft tell the tale of an old man who lives in a dreary junkyard, full of other people's broken and unwanted rubbish in 'The Tin Forest'. This uplifting and humorous show is preceded by a junk art workshop. tutti frutti re-imagine the enchanting story of Peter Pan as told by Wendy in their sparkling new production 'Underneath a Magical Moon'. Finally for Christmas, Norwich Puppet Theatre, a hub for leading international puppeteers and theatre makers, breathes new life into Hans Christian Andersen's classic tale of magic, bravery and love in 'The Tin Soldier'.

As you can see, there's a lot going on this season! Full details including individual box office numbers are on www.artsreach.co.uk, where you can also see events happening in November and December. You can also find Artsreach on Facebook and Twitter to keep up to date with the latest news.

Marine Theatre steps up to show films in Lyme Regis!

IT WAS a terrible blow to Lyme Regis when its historic and popular Regent Cinema was severely damaged by fire this March, and since then, the town has sadly been without a cinema.

A statement on the Scott Cinema website says: "We are fully confident that the loss of this cinema facility will be temporary, and that the regent will be rebuilt to its former glory."

We are all keen to see this happen. Meanwhile the team at the Marine Theatre in Church Street have been busy in collaboration with the Lyme Regis Film Society, and with the support of Scott Cinemas, to provide film for the local community. Cloudbusting: Top tribute to Kate Bush CLOUDBUSTING will bring the music of Kate Bush to her fans at Bridport Arts Centre on Saturday, September 24th. This new 2-hour concert showcases the Hounds of Love album against a dazzling selection of hits such as 'Wuthering Heights', 'Babooshka' and 'This Woman's Work'.

Mandy Watson is the voice of Kate Bush. She encompasses Kate's range with uncanny yet effortless accuracy and explores the emotional core of the songs without ever resorting to caricature. As Kate Bush's own drummer from 1979's Tour Of Life, Preston Heyman commented after sharing the stage with her; "Mandy's vocals were so good, I could have been listening to Kate herself!"

Kate's longtime musical collaborator and bassist Del Palmer commented that the band's versions of the songs were "the closest by far" that he'd ever heard. Such is Cloudbusting's standing in the Kate Bush community that they have been invited back for the fourth time to headline the international Homeground Kate Bush Convention.

The five-piece band's authentic musical arrangements are complemented by eye-popping 3D-mapped projections and a backdrop of original videography created and contributed by Kate-inspired artists from around the world.

'Hounds of Love performed by Cloudbusting' is an intensely emotional journey through the hits such as Running Up That Hill, Hounds of Love and Cloudbusting culminating in the crescendo of the album's famous flip-side, The Ninth Wave.

The music of Kate Bush is as popular and relevant today as it ever was. It is rare to find a current artist who doesn't cite Kate as a major musical influence. In 2014 she secured a place in musical history with eight simultaneous entries in the UK Albums Chart and a 22 date residency in Hammer-smith which sold out in minutes, so don't miss this chance to experience her music live.

Cloudbusting will play live at Bridport Arts Centre on Saturday, September 24th at 7.30pm. Tickets are £15, available from www.bridport-arts.com, or by calling 01308 424204.

Flamboyant and flame-haired folk

IN THE space of just a few years, Miranda Sykes & Rex Preston have emerged to become one of the most sought after duos on the English folk and roots scene. The striking combination of the flame headed double bass player and virtuoso mandolin player create music that Folk Roots say is: "A musical partnership made in heaven. Scintillating, sensitive and brilliant!"

Well known for the last 10 years as a central component of Show of Hands, Miranda has an exquisite and spine-tingling voice, whilst Rex, with his exuberant and flamboyant playing style, has built a reputation as one of the finest mandolin players in the UK. Their stunning performance brings precision, delight, wonder and warmth to their live shows.

Miranda Sykes and Rex Preston play live at Dorchester Corn Exchange on Saturday, September 24th at 8pm (doors and bar 7.30pm). Tickets are £12, £10 members and concessions, from www.dorchester-arts.org.uk or by calling 01305 266926.

5 TIPS FOR MAKING DARK ROOMS LIGHTER

1. Any room can be made to feel lighter simply by painting the ceiling white, so it reflects light instead of absorbing it, and, of course, the walls too. Specialist emulsions can help even more. Dulux Ultra White Matt emulsion (from £24.98 for 2.5ltr, www.dulux.co.uk) is not only a really white white (unlike most pure brilliant white emulsions, which are off-white), it's also 20 times tougher than standard Dulux emulsion. Most importantly, Ultra White contains special light-reflective particles that reflect up to twice as much light back into the room as standard Dulux emulsion. For soft, subtle colours, try Dulux Light + Space Matt emulsions (from £20.99 for 2.5ltr), which contain the same light-reflective particles. North-facing rooms are most challenging to decorate because the natural light is cold. For this reason, avoid cold colours and stick to warm ones, such as yellows and creamy neutrals.

2. One of the best ways to brighten up a kitchen is with pale - preferably white - high-gloss unit doors, as these bounce light around the room. High-gloss kitchens never seem to go out of fashion, so glossy doors are a great way to update the room and needn't be expensive.

By Julia Gray, Press Association

3. In other rooms, consider going for glossy or mirrored furniture, and hanging mirrors on the walls - opposite a window will maximise the light coming in and make the room feel bigger. And don't forget the floor - white-painted floorboards, or shiny white floor tiles in kitchens and bathrooms, will help to bounce light around.

4. Replacing, enlarging or adding windows can make a big difference to how light a room is, but it's an expensive and disruptive solution to the problem, and planning rules can restrict what you do. Changing the window treatment is usually much cheaper - swap fussy curtains for sleek roller blinds, for example, and you'll let in more light.

5. Another radical solution is to remove a wall. Knocking two rooms into one usually gives the new room more windows and it may get sunlight for most of the day if, say, it's now both east facing (morning sun) and west facing (evening sun).

sive. In any dark room, but especially kitchens and bathrooms, it's important to have good artificial lighting because you may need it on when it's light outside.

Perfect pick-ups with a 66-plate: New offers on Volkswagen Amarok

CUSTOMERS wanting to pop a 66-plate on the perfect pick-up need look no further this month than the award-winning Volkswagen Commercial Vehicles' Amarok. Not only do all Highline models registered from now until the end of September come with a factory-fit RNS 315 satellite navigation system as well as a choice of two chrome packs, but there are also a number of competitive finance offers, including zero per cent finance on Solutions Personal Contract Plans.

This latest offer, available from now until the end of September, means customers can acquire a top-of-the-range Amarok Highline 2.0-litre Bi-TDI 180 PS with satellite navigation system on Volkswagen Commercial Vehicles' Solutions Personal Contract Plan (PCP) for £299 per month (0% APR representative), based on a 36 month 10,000 miles per annum agreement*.

Available to private buyers, the Solutions PCP provides a flexible and affordable route for individuals to purchase their new vehicle. An agreed future value of the vehicle, flexible annual mileage limits and variable deposit amounts enables customers to reduce monthly repayments.

Extra spec is also standard this month on the Highline: an RNS 315 satellite navigation system is neatly integrated in the Amarok's dashboard, while two chrome pack options make the pick-up stand out from the crowd. One includes chrome door handle covers, chrome side indicator surrounds and mirror caps plus a polished steel rear styling bar. The second removes the rear styling bar to allow the fitment of a hardtop from the Volkswagen Commercial Vehicles range. With this option, the customer is given a £500 contribution towards a hardtop of their choice.

Businesses interested in the Amarok can take advantage of a number of finance lease deals, for example an Amarok Trendline from £239 per month.

The Amarok boasts car-like driveability and comfort in combination with robust off-road capability. Currently available with a choice of two 2.0-litre engines with 140 PS or a bi-turbo version with 180 PS, all models also have 4MOTION four-wheel drive. Three standard specification levels are offered – Startline, Trendline and Highline (subject to availability).

For more details of the latest offers on the Amarok, please contact your local Volkswagen Van Centre or go to www.volkswagen-vans.co.uk.

Impressive Seaside march in to last 16

Charmouth beaten but not disgraced - Beaminster edged out - Uplyme draw again

LYME REGIS 4 ALPHINGTON RESERVES 1 East Devon Senior Cup R1

TWO picture book goals from Robbie Fellingham at either end of the match were the highlights as Lyme Regis extended their unbeaten run at the Davey Fort to 10 games and breezed through to round two of the East Devon Senior Cup. The midfielder curled home trademark 25-yard free-kick right into the top-corner after midfield partner Mark Bailey, having waltzed past three defenders, was tripped to put Lyme ahead midway through the first half.

That's how it stayed until 10 minutes into the second-half when Fellingham turned provider.

He conjured up a perfectly weighted through ball to Chris Herbst who bent the ball home from the tightest of angles for his first goal for the club and put Lyme in the driving seat.

The game was effectively

◆ FIRST GOAL: Chris Herbst opened his account for Lyme Regis

sealed when Bailey picked out centre forward Ben Clarke who sent the visiting keeper the wrong way from the edge of the box to make it 3-0 midway through the half.

The Alphas grabbed a lifeline through a scrappy Callum Gent effort but the Seaside's saved the best until last.

Clarke did well to pick out Bailey at the far post and the midfielder coolly rolled the ball in to the path Fellingham who passed the ball into the bottom corner.

Fellingham, Bailey and Dec Ellis stood out for Lyme but it was a fine all-round performance.

HEMYOCK 3 LYME REGIS RESERVES 0 Devon & Exeter D6

LYME Regis Reserves failed to find the net on their travels for the first time ever in the Devon & Exeter League and ended up well beaten by a mediocre Hemyock side.

Manager Gerard Hitchcock, missing half-a-dozen regulars, selected a 3-5-2 formation which sadly once again backfired.

The hosts took the lead in the 16th minute when a free-kick from out wide caught keeper Toby Fowler flat-footed and found the top corner.

The teenage keeper was at fault again soon after when he needlessly scythed down a Hemyock striker who was heading away from goal.

Things improved for Lyme after the break with when they reverted to a back four with Kingsley Wellman pushed up into the midfield, but they conceded a third and there was no way back.

A disappointed Hitchcock told View Sports: "The three at the back experiment hasn't worked. Overall it was probably our worst performance for two or three years – it was awful, only Kingsley (Wellman) and Jonny Day came out of it with any credit."

"We'll be better when we get the five or six players back from injury and unavailability, however I certainly learned a thing or two about the side I put out on Saturday."

DAISY HUTCHINGS CUP R1 HAWKHURST UTD 5 CHARMOUTH 1

DESPITE what is, on paper, a hefty defeat, Charmouth manager Kevin Pratt was nonetheless satisfied with his team who took on a Hawkchurch side who are expected to once again go close in the Division One promotion race.

Charmouth created a couple of early half-chances only to fall behind after a lack of communication in the back line.

The hosts struck again, but Ali Harvey halved the deficit before the interval to give the Robins hope heading into the break.

But the Hawks swooped to good effect just before the hour to go 3-1 up. With nothing to lose, Pratt threw extra bodies forward but his side were caught out twice late-on.

PSDL PREMIER

DRIMPTON 0 WINSHAM UTD 1

A 20-yard peach from Sam Symes was enough to see Winsham United, with centre-back John Simmons in MoM form, make it six points from six with a 1-0 win at Drimpton.

Symes had earlier struck the goal frame in the first half although former Hinton striker Ross Jewell did likewise for the hosts.

Drimpton's new manager Mark Pearce is expecting a tough season, he told View Sports: "I thought we were unlucky not to nick a point, but it's going to be a hard slog this season having lost almost the whole of last season's first team squad."

MISTERTON 1 BEAMINSTER 0

A SOLITARY goal also decided a hard fought encounter at Unity Lane and it was Misterton midfielder Mike McCormack who got it heading home the winner 10 minutes from time.

But Beaminster manager Gordy Childs felt his side should have taken something from the match.

They squandered a golden chance when striker Rich Hebditch, fresh from successfully converting three penalties last week, had his spot kick saved.

"We'll bounce back next week," said Childs who picked out Josh Baker and Russell Legg as his top performers."

UPLYME 2 MERRIOTT ROVERS 2 Division One

UPLYME netted a late equaliser to record their second 2-2 draw in the opening week of the Division One season.

This started well for the hosts, kicking up the Venlake slope who took the lead when skipper Jake Bearpark chipped the ball up for Jonny Davies to head home.

But just two minutes later Rovers were level when an unmarked Luke Gosney rifled home low into the corner.

Home keeper Lloyd Cleal had a busy afternoon and pulled off some fines saves but he was helpless for the Merriott second goal. When a rash challenge from James Hansford allowed Gosney the bag his second, this time from the penalty spot.

But as the visitors appeared to ease up The Swallows moved on to the front foot. Steve Batey was narrowly wide with a header, but in the dying embers of the match he made no mistake hammering the ball home from 15 yards after a neat nod down from Niall Fifer.

Joint manager Jon Matthews was pleased with the team's performance, he said: "Going up the hill in the first half, we knew we were in with a chance of taking something from the game being 1-1 at half-time."

"The lads took the commitment and effort to a different level in the second half. We matched them stride for stride. We defended well and kept our composure on the ball."

"We showed good determination and proved that we want to be in the promotion mix come the end of the season and, based on the two previous performances, we certainly have enough to do so."

Over at the Archie Gooch Ground Fred Parsons scored a late equaliser for the second time in seven days as Pymore paid the penalty for not taking a host of chances and were held to a 1-1 draw by hosts Ilminster Colts.

DIVISION THREE

UPLYME RESERVES 4

CHARD RANGERS RESERVES 1

TWO goals in each half saw the Uplyme second string continue their promising start to the new season.

They took the lead when James Souter-Phillips lobbed the visiting keeper in the 10th minute.

A couple of half-chances came and went but the Swallows weren't to be denied, and Frank Harris rounded off a breakthrough move to make it 2-0 at the interval.

They thought they had a third when James Whetlor's 25-yard free-kick flashed into the top corner, but the 'goal' was ruled out the kick was indirect.

Number three arrived after the break when MoM Jamie Murray's cross from left back found Jonny Harris who turned well and fired home via the inside of the post.

Souter-Phillips made it 4-0 from the penalty spot after a foul on Isaac Rodin, but thoughts of a clean sheet were ended by Karl Fletcher's late consolation for Rangers.

◆ AT THE DOUBLE: James Souter-Phillips

Uplyme manager Stuart Wooster said: "It was a sterner test than last week and a great result. Most pleasing for me was the collective teamwork with the players working hard for each other."

West bay Sea Angling Club

Last gasp Caolan secures annual Stokes Family trophy

CAOLAN Ayers landed a very late ballan wrasse to win the Stokes Family Trophy over the Bank Holiday weekend to snatch victory from Ewan Chambers.

The event is part of the West Bay Sea Angling Club junior member's annual fixtures, and it looked like Chambers would hang on to win it as he did two years ago when a late capture by Nathan McMasters almost took the trophy.

However he wasn't so lucky this time and although his overall catch was greater than Ayers, his haul of sizeable weight fish wasn't as great.

Eight junior members signed on for the annual competition on East Pier and despite a few rumbles of thunder before the match, the weather stayed dry but cloudy with a gentle south-easterly breeze. Sea conditions were clear and slightly choppy.

Aaron Chambers was the early leader with the first of dozens of common blenny or shanny that came to the rods nearest the rocks. All but one of the competitors landed fish with shanny, corkwing and ballan wrasse, tompot blenny, pollack and weever coming to the scales. Unfortunately no flounders showed so the prize for heaviest flatfish went unclaimed for a second match in a row.

As the match continued Ewan Chambers landed a brace of sizeable corkwing wrasse which gave him the lead but was soon challenged by McMaster who answered with another corkwing followed by a sizeable shore rockling.

Aaron Chambers eventually made it into third spot with a sizeable corkwing wrasse and positions seemed to be set for the match but a last minute capture by Ayers was just enough to edge him into the lead with a ballan wrasse of 349g, just 19g ahead of Ewan Chambers.

Although Aaron Chambers had the greatest weight and number of fish (fourteen for 854g), fish achieving the Angling Trust's minimum size takes precedence over undersized fish so he attained a respectable fourth position with a sizeable weight of 152g.

The junior section would like to extend their gratitude to the Stokes family who generously support this event with tackle vouchers for the winners, with thanks also going to the other sponsors on the day.

Full results: 1st Caolan Ayers 488 g (349g sizeable weight), 2nd Ewan Chambers 638 g (330g sizeable weight), 3rd Nathan McMaster 684 g (209g sizeable weight), Heaviest round: Caolan Ayers 349g ballan wrasse, First fish: Aaron Chambers, Last fish: Kadie Lynham, Heaviest weever: Kadie Lynham 25g, Most fish: Aaron Chambers 14, Smallest fish: Eden Lynham weever 9g, Wooden spoon: Owen Swatridge.

Sponsors on the day: The Stokes family, Norman Stokes, Watchhouse Cafe, Kay Guppy, Richard 'Tiny' Daw and Andrew Fowler.

Gig Racing

Lyme Regis conquer the Thames!

LYME Regis Gig Club undertook their first foray to London last Saturday to participate in the 29th annual Great River Race.

This is a colourful spectacle with over 300 fixed seat traditional boats powered by a minimum of four oars, or paddles, rowing up the Thames from Millwall Docks to Ham House in Richmond, a distance of 21.8 miles with 28 bridges.

Each boat must be coxed and, in keeping with the Watermen's ancient traditions as the taxi drivers of the Thames, carry a passenger.

Time Out magazine described it as being 'less posh' than the Oxford race and much more colourful!

The Lyme club took their two GRP gigs Revenge and Prospero - the newest addition to the fleet.

Under slightly overcast skies and in choppy conditions both gigs got off to fantastic starts and stayed in the top half of the Cornish Pilot Gig class for the duration of the race.

Although some of the crew members were seasoned endurance rowers (one had rowed across the Atlantic twice), for the majority it was their first time over a course of this distance.

They all coped well, even if the general view was that the last 4.5 miles from Kew Railway Bridge felt as if it took longer than the first 17 miles!

Both gigs completed the course in under three hours finishing 93rd and 118th overall (of 324 finishers).

They were 17th & 21st respectively of 42 finishers in their class.

The hope is that this will be-

Rio 2016 Paralympics

Local athletes go for gold

TWO West Dorset athletes will be going for gold this week when they compete in the Paralympics in Rio.

Athlete Paul Blake will be looking for a double gold, particularly since his two biggest rivals, both Russians have been banned, whilst Holly Neill will be looking for a medal of any colour in the F41 Discus.

Neill from Chantmarle is first to compete, the 27-year-old scheduled for tomorrow (Thursday) at 9.40pm BST. She has two bronze medals to her name so far from the 2013 IPC World Championships in Lyon, France, and earlier this year at the 2016 IPC European Championships held in Grosseto, Italy.

Currently ranked in the top six, she will probably need to beat her current PB of 23.76m set in Grosseto.

Blake, a year younger, is one of the most consistent performers within the British ranks, winning multiple medals at IPC World and European Championships.

Main rival banned

He led by example at last year's IPC Athletics World Championships where, as the joint captain, matched his performance from 2013, winning T36 800m gold and 400m silver.

With a silver in the T36 400m, and bronze in the 800m in London in 2012, he is hoping that with arch rival Evgenii Shvetsov banned, he can lead the field home in both distances.

His races, straight finals, are scheduled for 2.15 pm BST on Friday (400m) and Saturday at 11.19 BST (800m).

Lyme Regis Sailing Club

Victory in Banbury Chaser

THE fleet was divided into three handicap classes for the last leg of the Banbury Chaser and Inter Club Challenge sailed at Lyme on Sunday.

Separating the fast and slower boats enabled Race Officer Joe Joyner to time everyone for a similar duration for each of three races, finishing each class by hoisting the S flag and class flag.

Thirty-one dinghies, including eight visitors from Sutton Bingham SC set out in light winds and flat seas, but by race three a good breeze and building waves increased the challenges, with several competitors retiring after race two.

"There were quite a few capsizes, some of our better sailors too", said Joe.

But apart from tweaking the gybe mark, the safety boat monitored rather than assisted. Points were awarded on a direct placings system with Lyme's Allan & Chrissy Tyler, on 5 points winning overall (1,1,3).

Equal with 5 points, Cameron & Darrol Moss were placed second (2,2,1).

Well up was young Max Smith, who had recently attended coaching at Weymouth, with 17pts.

Also well placed was 16-year-old Andrew Frost, son of Lyme past Commodore Richard, sailing from Sutton Bingham (6,7), but with 70 points from five entries against 153 points for the visiting club, Lyme regained the trophy.

Allan received the cup from Commodore Jerry Rook on behalf of Lyme, it now returns to the local club for 2016.

Next weekend sees the annual Bart's Bash, a race event which takes place all over the world in memory of Olympic champion Andrew 'Bart' Simpson's Memorial Foundation. Entries are open on line.

Results Banbury Chaser: 1st Allan & Chrissy Tyler - LR (1,1,3) 5pts. 2nd Cameron & Darrol Moss - LR (2,2,1) 5pts. 3rd Jerry Rook & Fraser Earle - LR (3,4,2) 9pts. 4th Max Smith - LR (8,5,4) 17pts. 5th Richard Cumberbatch - SB (5,7,7) 17pts. 6th Richard Frost - SB (9,11,6) 26pts.

Trophy triumph for Bridport

BRIDPORT Ladies won the June Culpin Trophy for the fifth time since its inception in 2001 when beating Broadstone Wessex in a tight final.

This year the club had the advantage that the finals were played on their home green in Priory Lane but persistent rain marred the first half of the semi-final's.

However it didn't deter Bridport who donned waterproofs and set about beating West Moors comfortably, winning both rinks quite comfortably, whilst Broadstone Wessex despatched Swanage in the other tie.

The rain had cleared by the time of the final

◆ DESPITE THE RAIN: The rain eventually gave way to sunshine but it didn't bother Alison Tibble. Photos by STUART BROOM which saw a much tighter game. The rink of Pamela Daters, Laura Taylor, Rosemary Brooks and Melodie Watts lost by a shot, but with Frances Hewlett, Marion Carter, Alison Tibble and Pat Cornick overturning the deficit and more on the other rink, Bridport took the title.

Unfortunately there wasn't such good news at Lyme Regis where Bridport Ladies contesting the county triples and fours final were soundly beaten by their Poole Park opponents.

The pairs final was postponed until the beginning of next season following an accident to Margaret Clapp which meant she was unable to take part with her partner Frances Hewlett.

Yeovil Town

Crowd vote with their feet

Yeovil Town 1 Hartlepool 2

YEOVIL Town slumped to a new low point of the season with another defeat, their fifth league in a row, as Hartlepool came from behind to snatch the three points in the second minute of added time at Huish Park on Saturday writes Stuart Broom.

There is a further problem as falling gates - Saturday's (2,749) was the smallest in Yeovil's Football League history - will mean a drop in income and financial difficulties will follow.

Following last week's 3-0 reverse at home to Blackpool, the home crowd showed their disgust at their side's dismal performance with over 250 Glovers fans, or around 7 per cent, voting with their feet, by staying away from this week's game.

Whilst this was a slightly better display, there was no real bite and, whilst they were unlucky to have seen several shots blocked by a retreating 'Monkey Hangers' defence, in which the experienced 36-year-old Rob Jones excelled until being replaced at half-time, so often the fear of their perilous position saw them pass the ball on instead of shooting.

Hartlepool, like Blackpool, were no great shakes and a half decent performance from Darren Way's men would have won the points, but four points from seven games, four of them at home, is sadly relegation form.

No matter how you dress it up, with only this squad to work with until the transfer market opens again at the end of the year, it will remain this way based on what we have seen so far.

Ref watch: Unfortunately the standard of refereeing goes with the territory and if you are in Division Two that means pretty poor.

Charles Breakspear upheld that cliché with another abject display from the officials which is becoming a reoccurring theme this season.

Promoted to the FL in 2013 he has not made any progress, and if Saturday's display is any guide you could see why.

Bridport Bowls

Ladies extend lead

BRIDPORT Ladies A stretched their lead to three points at the top of the Dorset Women's League Division 1 with a thumping 68-33 victory over BRANKSOME PARK which saw them collect all 10 points.

With closest rivals Blandford only claiming eight points, Bridport have the edge when the clubs meet in the final fixture of the season this week, which is the title decider. Bridport need just four of the 10 points to become champions, whilst Blandford need at least six to wrest the title.

Despite the large overall shot victory in the penultimate game, it wasn't all plain sailing as Lynn Craddock, Mary Eastman, Laura Taylor & Pat Cornick were pushed to the wire. It was 14-14 at the end of the 20th and a two on the final end secured the win and the additional two points.

Pamela Daters, Gill Hunt, Marion Carter & Rosemary Brooks had a terrific win 24-6, whilst Francis Hewett, Sheila Jones, Allison Tibble & Melodie Watts got off to a flying start with a five, and never looked back winning 28-13.

It was a disappointing finish to the season for Bridport B who finished rock bottom in Division 2. They lost 43-68 to WEST MOORS. Margaret Strange, Diane S Butcher & Jill Willcox conceded one on the last end to lose 18-19. Mary Corfield, Chris Robbins, Pauline Newitt & Marion Tocher went down 13-25, whilst Janet Bird, Pam Gray, Jean Seadon & Delphine Street lost 12-26.

Double for Buxton

STEVE Buxton had a brilliant week starting off by winning DIVISION 1 of the SEPTEMBER MEDAL with a nett 68 that included two birdies.

Jon Ebdon had a similar round and came 2nd with a nett 70, with Tim Daniel's nett 71 securing 3rd.

DIVISION 2 saw John Cleal win with the best score of the day - nett 65 although it included a 7 on the 10th which spurred him to greater things including a brilliant birdie on 17.

Nic Snape with birdies on 9 and 13 secured 2nd place with 67 with David Binns' 69 coming 3rd.

Steve Buxton was out again on Wednesday to secure a fine 40 points to win the MIDWEEK STABLEFORD outright, which included a birdie on the stroke index 2 16th hole.

Di Smith & Rosie Jackman won the Lyme Regis PING 4BBB competition and their score was good enough to qualify for the NATIONAL PLATE FINAL played at the Ping headquarters at Gainsborough.

Going out first on a neutral course they scored 39 points which was lying second for much of the time as many favourites dropped away. Eventually they ended up a very creditable 13th out of 50.

Vase hopes smashed in disappointing second half

Bridport 2 Cribbs 4
FA Vase - att; 92
LEADING at the interval, Bridport produced a disappointing second half showing that saw them exit the FA Vase at St Mary's on Saturday.

It looked like the Bees were heading for victory as they dominated the first 45 and led thanks to a brace from Mark Salter, but a chapter of errors after the break saw Cribbs come back and score three times.

Bridport started aggressively and forced a number of corners but failed to convert any of them, and it was the visitors who took the lead on 19 minutes through Liam Clayton.

However, Bridport continued to press and deservedly equalised on the half hour when Salter converted Ed Butcher's cross.

The striker then showed his poise by collecting a through ball and clinically firing past keeper Matt Turner.

But it was a different game in the second half as Bridport's energetic approach appeared to ebb, and Cribbs soon equalised when Clayton notched his second, back heeling the ball home on 54 minutes.

Ten minutes later they took the lead when Rhys Hodgson fired home from the edge of the box. This heralded the introduction of substitute George King who added a fourth when he capitalised on some sloppy defensive play.

To add to Bridport's misery Salter missed the chance of completing his hat trick in the last minute when Bridport were awarded a penalty, but skied his spot kick over the bar.

Manager Adam Fricker said: "We played really well in the first half, but too many players went hiding after they got their equaliser, but we weren't really opened up."

"I think a lot felt that the game was won at half time, and they didn't really come out for the second half."

The season to date has seen a number of close games, and whilst they have dominated for large parts, they haven't managed to complete 90 minutes without the odd lack of misunderstanding or individual error.

This is understandable considering the number of changes to personnel this season, and with a injuries to key experienced personnel such as club captain Ryan Hayter and Matt Condliffe, it has made Fricker's job harder.

The good news is that Hayter played the whole 90 minutes for the third team on Saturday with little reaction to his hip injury, whilst Condliffe came through his first game back with no real problems.

Both were selected to start by the Bees boss in their league match away to Wells City last night.

"We need to see where Ryan is with his injury so he will start so we can assess the situation, and Matt, despite not being fully fit, will also play."

Fricker is hopeful that, with no midweek games until Christmas, it will give players carrying knocks a chance to recover as well as giving the squad a chance to get on the training pitch and work on a few things.

"We haven't had the opportunity since the season started to really get the lads to integrate, and also rotate the squad."

Thirds start with big win

BRIDPORT A 9
WINCANTON TOWN A 1
Dorset Division Four
BRIDPORT's newly reformed third team got their season underway in spectacular style, crushing visitors Wincanton A.

The youthful Bees included club captain Ryan Hayter looking for match minutes after a long spell on the sidelines with a hip flexor problem.

Bridport rode some early pressure and after a cross from Jaydon Scadding found sibling brother saw Brandon who made no mistake.

◆ OPENING GOAL: Brandon Scadding

Wincanton replied and struck the crossbar which jolted the Bees into life and goals from Hayter and skipper Sam Handyside had them 3-0 up at half time.

The second half saw a completely different game. The visitors, who had had put up a decent fight in the first 45 minutes, were played off the park. Sol Davis and Rhys Hughes-Williams both netted before Brandon Scadding completed his hat trick.

A brace from Ali Kamara completed the scoring with the goal of the game from a Brandon Scadding cross.

Wincanton then finally grabbed a consolation for their efforts.

Manager Mark Scadding said: "Today really was our day as the score lineshows. We were up against a physical side who proved that they will be a force to be reckoned with this season."

"My only slight moan could be that we have not have kept a clean sheet. When you are 9-0 in front I suppose you are bound to ease up, but I'm not sure keeper Jordan Scadding would agree with that."

Next Saturday they travel to play Shillingstone.

Ladies need two points at Broadstone

WHAT a busy week it's been for the Club! Five friendlies, men's end of season supper and playing host to the Dorset Ladies Finals weekend.

The ladies trio of Ann Allman, Sue Rowe & Pam Weech won through to the final of the Benevolent Triples with an exciting last end win against a combined Greenhill & Dorchester threesome. Sadly they came unstuck in the final against Blandford.

The league's men had a 10 end 'roll-up' to finish off their season followed by supper in the Clubhouse.

After a rainy start on Saturday for the Dorset Ladies Finals the weather improved and the weekend then provided near perfect conditions.

It is quite prestigious for the Club to host these finals, something that won't come our way that often.

With touring sides from Worthing, Portishead and Wingham, the Club continues to attract sides from far and wide to play on our iconic green.

The ladies only managed to gain two points against Blandford in Division One of the Dorset League, and need at least two points at 3rd placed Broadstone Wessex this week to be sure of staying up.

Canaries fly to top

CANARIES had their pedigree birds in action again in the Bridport & West Dorset Club Morning League with David Jenkin, Mel Hargett & Mike Fletcher annihilating the Toffees 25-4. With leaders Gunners losing 13-9 to Chris Thorne, Norman Eccles & Phil Hedges' Pensioners they are now joint leaders with just two matches left.

Red Devils remain three points behind the leaders after being beaten 13-6 by Mary Hansford, Margaret Field & Roger Cowmeadow's Cherries.

Meanwhile, Gerry Moss, Chris Clarke & Barry Mapson's Magpies finished 2, 1, 3 to beat Spurs 13-3, whilst Len Guppy, Peter Varney & Bob Hill's Hammers came from 3-10 down to draw 10-10 with Bernard Perry, Millie Meech & Mike Parsons' Glovers.

Pugalsists looked like losing top spot in the Evening League as they trailed the Fencers 9-15, but a terrific 1, 4, 3 finish from Pete Cowburn, Steve Glover & Martin Wilton gave them a 17-5 win to stay ahead.

The Wrestlers were forced into submission on the final end when Jackie White, Val Dodd & Barry Mapson's Divers picked up a one count to win 12-11.

A 1, 2, 5 burst was enough to give Sylvia and Mike Fletcher & Tony Bartlett's Hurdlers an 18-10 win over the Gymnasts, whilst Gordon Lee, Bob Hill & Andy Marsh's Cyclists won 14-13 against the Decathletes.

Tracey Marley, Chas Clarke & Peter Hunt's Archers defeated Swimmers 16-12, and Sharon and Les Heath & Steven Grier's Rowers defeated Equestrians 16-9.
